

Reading for year 1- Monday 1st June.

This week we are thinking about non-fiction texts again. These are texts that tell you information about something real

eg. about animals or how things work,

how to make something (instructions),

about someone's life,

about events in history.

Today we would like you to go on a book hunt around your house and see how many different non-fiction texts you can find.

Remember they do not have to be full books - they might include a recipe inside a magazine, or a set of instructions about how to build a lego model.

Write down, or take a photo of, the different texts you find.
