

Wednesday 24th June

English

But....

Watch the video link below to remind yourself about using conjunctions and and but.

<https://www.bing.com/videos/search?q=using+but+in+setences+video+ks1&docid=608017663482465133&mid=14548DB3FC9E80C9843314548DB3FC9E80C98433&view=detail&FORM=VIRE>

Conjunctions join together two sentences.

‘and’ joins two sentences that have something in common and go together.

‘but’ joins two sentences that have different ideas and go against each other.

For example-

I like sweets. I don’t like fruit.

I like sweets but I don’t like fruit.

Look at my sentences.

Can you add the correct conjunction so they make sense?

Add and or but

1. Tom played the game well _____ won a trophy.
2. The king is rich _____ the farmer is poor.
3. Molly likes doing puzzles _____ Alice likes doing crosswords.
4. Her writing is very good _____ she struggles with her spelling.
5. Max fell down _____ he didn't get hurt.

Have a think about whether Syd should stay on the island or go home.

Create a table with reasons for and against, I have started one for you.

Syd should stay.	Syd shouldn't stay.
He is having a great time.	His mum and dad will miss him.
He is spending time with his Grandad.	The jungle isn't a safe place.